SUBJECT: TAVES Hi-Fi Show 2016 – Bryston Demo

TORONTO 2016

Bryston's big room

Even at the smaller shows (and some really are small...we're looking at you, Vancouver), Bryston is there. The Bryston room is set up by James Tanner, who has been setting up difficult (read: big) rooms, and he can get the best from difficult spaces.

This is of course the Model T speaker, the original Bryston speaker., but this time it's there active version, tri-amplified, with Bryston amps of course.

For an active speaker, you need an electronic crossover. Bryston has long made one. We reviewed it back in UHF No. 21. But the current version is all digital, and has no knobs.

Bryston BAX-1 Electronic Crossover

Oh...the sound?

Excellent, as usual.
