SUBJECT: Bryston Active System – Impressive!

May 2017

Hi James

A follow up to my involvement in the recent Bryston Model T Active speaker demo at Puls Audio.

The demo was very impressive.....the systems had incredible control in the room starting with the bottom end through to the highs.

I think everybody that entered the Bryston active room thought that we had a sub-woofer operating with the system.

The bass response moved your body as well as your pant leg were flapping, however it was in total control at all times never hearing any distortion from the system and with this the volumes levels were right up there with no harshness or grain.....it was big fun demoing and listening to this system.

The balance of the system from top to bottom was as good as I have heard on any system at any price point.

Active is the way to go once you hear it and many people said this after entering another room which was 3 times the price and running passive (nice system) however everyone ended up back in the Bryston room with the active system!

You have no idea until how good this is until you sit down and listen to it for yourself!!
